Andrew Koha Named President & CEO of St. Augustine Health Ministries

(Cleveland, OH) On July 18, 2011, Andrew Koha assumed the role of President and CEO of St. Augustine Health Ministries. Mr. Koha brings over 30 years of extensive leadership experience in senior living communities, in addition to a strong faith and commitment to Mission.

As President and CEO, Koha will lead St. Augustine Health Ministries (St. Augustine Health Campus, Holy Family Home & Hospice, St. Augustine Home Health Care and Emerald Village Retirement Community) through the changes in health care and senior living services. He brings fresh strategies and new perspectives to ensure the continued delivery of quality care to the residents and patients we serve.

“After an extensive search, I’m confident that we found the right person to lead this Ministry”, said Patrick Gareau, President and Chief Executive Officer of Catholic Charities Health & Human Services. “We are excited about the energy, faith and diverse perspectives Andy brings.”

“I look forward to building upon the foundation of Mission at St. Augustine, while furthering the quality of care and services provided to the chronically ill and aging”, said Koha.

Mr. Koha holds a Bachelor of Arts in Business Administration degree from Seina Heights College and received an MBA from Baldwin-Wallace College. He is an active member of St. Mary’s Catholic Church in Berea, an avid cyclist and resides in Middleburg Hts. with his wife. He has two adult sons.
